Herald by Audio

Get your Herald by audio

A service that helps people with sight issues keep up-to-date with the news and views in the Herald has capacity to take on extra listeners and Its FREE.

Stratford talking newspapers for the Blind delivers an audio version of the newspaper to homes allowing people who are blind or whose eyesight is deteriorating to stay up-to-date.

Maureen Beckett who runs the free service said "you don't have to be blind to receive it, if your eyesight is failing and isn't as good as it was, or deteriorating, then you get the service we provide, free of charge!

You get a free speaker and we come and tell you how to work it, and a memory stick is then sent every week to keep you in contact with your district and local events.

A memory stick is put in a pouch after the latest Herald is recorded and taken to the sorting office on Thursday and in normal circumstances listeners will receive it on a Friday. Each listener has three memory sticks so if one is not returned on time they will still get another in the post with that week's latest news.

To find out more about the service call Maureen Beckett on Stratford 299347.

One recipient said, "Very useful because when you're talking to your relations there are no stony silences, because you can always talk about what you heard from Stratford Talking News."

News from the Parish Council

In May, the Parish Council met in person for the first time since March 2020 and held the the Parish Annual Meeting, the AGM and the normal Parish Council Meeting. We were pleased to be joined by our new County Councillor, Penny-Anne O'Donnell. We received reports from various groups and associations who receive grants from the Parish Council, and they, as well as the Chairman's report, are on www.moretonmorrellpc.co.uk.

Cllr Rob James was re-elected as Chair, with Cllr Gerry Slora as Vice-Chair. During the Parish Council meeting we discussed some important matters including improving signage at the playing field and the issue of litter.

We will be holding a 'Village Celebration Picnic' in September as an official opening of the playing field – watch this space for further details. We continue to be delighted by the number of people using the playing field, but are aware of the ongoing issue of litter and are investigating the purchase of new bins. We will be organising another litter pick later in the year – in the meantime, please do make use of the bins in and around the village or take your litter home. Please also be aware that the gym equipment is for age 14+ and that dogs should be kept on leads in the playing field.

The Village Hall Committee received grants from SDC during the pandemic and are now keen to hear from people who would like to join them in deciding how this money should be spent, and how the Village Hall can be best used in future. There will be a meeting later in June, the date will be advertised when it's finalised. We have commissioned a leaflet identifying some of the more popular, and lesser known, walks around the village to continue to encourage people to make the most of our beautiful surroundings.

The next meeting is on 19 July at 7.30pm, by which point we hope that anyone who wishes will be able to join us in person.

County Councillor Penny-Anne O'Donnell

I would like to start by thanking each and every one of you who turned out to vote on May 6th and for engaging in our local elections.

I feel truly humbled to have been selected and elected to represent you at Warwickshire County Council and will endeavour to be a strong voice for all of you.

My predecessor Cllr Anne Parry is certainly a hard act to follow!

As we look to a world with less restrictions it is of note that 70% of residents in Warwickshire have had their first job and the current Covid Rates in Warwickshire overall are 16/100,000 in comparison with England 32/100,000. Our NHS and military team and volunteers are simply incredible.

This year of challenges has reminded us just how vital community is and how a strong community is the beating heart of a village. Let me know if I can help your community project.

The Warwickshire County Council Councillors' Grant Fund is now live and open for applications. The Fund is aimed at community and voluntary organisations and provides each of the County's Councillors with funding to support small-scale projects within their division.

From the Allotments

As I mentioned in my last report in the Villager, one outcome from the pandemic and all its restrictions has been a major increase in interest in gardening in all its forms. Indeed internet suppliers of plants were inundated in 2020 and many ran out of supply.

Those who may have seen Countryfile recently will know that they have launched a UK wide campaign to get people growing – something worthy of support.

We have 100% occupancy of our village allotments this year with a number of new enthusiastic growers joining our ranks.

Successful growing comes with a great deal of work and quite a bit of frustration (why do weeds grow so fast!) but is enormously satisfying. Working in the garden or allotment is great exercise with the added advantage of being close to nature. When I was in full time work, there was nothing better at the end of a stressful day than to get out into the garden for a while. A bit of energetic digging can do a power of good.

Whilst we are up to 100% occupation of our allotments currently, there is likely to be some vacancies for next year due to house moves and the like. So do contact me if you are interested and get your name down if such vacancies arise.

As for this year, well it has been a curious and challenging spring, with no rain to speak of in April and very cold nights and then seemingly constant wet in May.

Despite that there has been much activity and now excellent growing conditions. Roll on an excellent summer.

Nature Watch

By Steve Harvey

As I scribble this we're nearly at the end of a turbulent Spring. Hawthorn buds are fit to burst. The Keck or Cow Parsley jostles with Nettles and Comfrey. Unless its really cold Spring slips in then gallops through. We recently tried Nettles in a risotto. Not a particularly strong flavour but packed full of goodness.

The Wild Arums are flowering, their long pointed green sheathes waiting for flies to pollinate them. They're also known as Cuckoo Pint as they flower around the time you might hear the Cuckoo. Good luck with that! I did hear and see one a couple of years ago.

My early potatoes are loving the rain (unlike me) and growing like mad. The Rat is still doing sterling stuff in the compost heap for hardly any reward. Just like having a small JCB in there (other digger are available).

I see the Fox most nights. I think its a dog Fox coming alone. Wish the Vixen and cubs would arrive. There was a baby Rabbit in the garden the other day. It would have just fitted into the palm of your hand. It was using the gap in the wood store door as a bolt hole. These little Rabbits or 'kittens' are on their own very quickly. With the Fox and a few cats around here it will have to sharpen up a bit.

The Swallows chase each other across the sky over the cottages. At the moment there's three of them like last year. Its an odd number so I hope more turn up. House Martins are back over Tachbrook and Moreton Morrell. I didn't see many last year. I'm seeing more Swifts though, at least 15 were up zooming about over Newbold Comyn.

Been lucky enough to see Hares recently, one down the lane near us and another on a farm down the Fosse. It was on that farm I also had a Wheatear fly in front of me joined by another. The name comes from Anglo-Saxon for 'white rump' So its more like a 'white rear' than a 'wheatear'. The old books I have say they breed in small numbers around here so, maybe, they have increased. Hope so only ever seen a couple of them.

Now my extended family of Jackdaws are working hard feeding young at the mo. The braver ones stalk me in the garden to get my attention - always works. Love watching them up close when I boost their food supplies. There's a dominant one that raises its head and neck feathers making it look bigger.

Nature Watch

That one arrives with a squawk and barges another Jackdaw out of the way as it flies into it on the lawn. There's one I feel sorry for that has a bad leg or foot. It almost lays down on the outhouse roof to take the weight off its leg. Its done that for a couple of years now so its coping but must be in pain. There's a happy bonded couple that land on the lawn, both calling and both with head feathers raised. One will bow down to the ground while the other one nuzzles into it. Its a proper complex little group full of character. Nice to watch up close.

Pick it up!

Whatever some people may believe, there's no such thing as the dog poo fairy. So dog walkers, bag that poo - any rubbish bin will do.
(This includes Box Field)

Together let's put an end to this offensive, harmful litter.

Your Church

I was recently invited to present a report to the Annual Parish Meeting. The following is an extract from this.

“Thank you for the opportunity to present this brief report on certainly a turbulent and unprecedented time since the last report in 2019. There has been so much tragedy and challenge and the effects will be long lasting. Whilst we have done our best to maintain services during the period, sadly we had to cease these for a short while for all the right reasons during the strict lockdown. However we were determined to ensure your church remained open every day for private prayer and reflection and we have seen many villagers take this opportunity.

During much of this time, we also were without a vicar but very fortunate to have a band of people who have helped in so many ways to ensure things ran as smoothly as possible. As you will almost certainly know, we do now have a new vicar in Lynda Lilley and I know she is looking forward to getting to know as many as possible as restrictions ease. The church has faced a serious financial challenge with the loss of regular income sources and in 2020, we faced the danger of using all our reserves. Thankfully a grant application to the Diocese proved successful and helped and we have been grateful for a number of donations to help mitigate matters. The situation on annual income and expenditure though remains very difficult especially with the loss of room income during the period and collections. Also we have had a ceiling fall in the building which needs attention as resources allow.

However we remain very optimistic as things hopefully return to more normal, room bookings re-start and we have plans for further fund raising events and activities. Speaking of fund raising, we record the excellent support given to a variety of fund raising activity in late 2020. This included a very successful craft fair held in the church and surrounds and a carol concert, although of course the latter had restricted numbers due to the pandemic. We also held a really successful evening of carol singing in the churchyard – a true community event.

Your Church

This report would not be complete without mention of Remembrance Sunday and we do value the support of the Parish Council in laying a wreath and indeed the village as a whole in supporting on this special day. The service prior to assembling at the memorial had to be cancelled in 2020 but it was good to see so many villagers in attendance for the short ceremony leading up to the two minutes of silence.

I have mentioned the churchyard – a great asset to our village and it is so good to see many take advantage of it as a place to rest and take time out from our challenging world.

Finally I would mention that on Sunday July 4th at 10.30am, we will be holding a very special service. We want to make this very much a village event for us to say thank you for all those who have helped us all get through the pandemic. We hope as many from the village will feel able to join us for this special service whatever their beliefs or none”

A THANK YOU SERVICE

On Sunday July 4th we are holding a very special informal village service in your church here at Moreton Morrell at 10.30am to say thank you to all who have helped us get through the pandemic. Please do make a note and join us if you can. It is open to all whatever your beliefs or none and is a chance for us all to reflect and make our personal thank you as well as remember those who have suffered and we have lost.

Apprentice service technician wins prize

Moreton Morrell student Lauren Savage was awarded the silver prize in a competition which aimed to find the country's top land-based service technicians. Lauren, 20, finished second overall in the Land-based Education and Training Committee (LE-TEC) 2021 Technician of the Year competition.

The former car mechanic is in the first year of her land-based service engineering apprenticeship at Chandlers Farm Equipment in Bristol.

Lauren said: "It's been less than a year since I took the plunge to go into this industry, so to be recognised in this way was a real surprise.

"I had been a car mechanic previously but knew that I loved to work on tractors and so decided to try and secure an apprenticeship in the field.

"Chandlers Farm Equipment gave me the opportunity and it's been very rewarding over the last few months to support the agriculture industry."

Tim Hutchinson, course leader at Moreton Morrell College said:

"When we heard the news we were delighted for Lauren and she is a fantastic ambassador for the college and her employer.

"Individuals such as Lauren are helping to change gender stereotypes regarding those who can work in land-based service engineering and agriculture more generally."

Moreton Morrell hosts top equestrian event

Hundreds of event riders from across the country visited Moreton Morrell College to compete in a prestigious equestrian competition.

More than 280 competitors were involved in the British Eventing competition at the college, where around 20 students were on hand to support on the day with dressage and show jumping stewarding.

Two students in their final year of the Equine Performance Coaching degree at the college competed on the day.

Shot Stables in Rugby and have continued day-to-day management of the business while completing their degrees. Jasmine said: "I always try to have a horse competing at Moreton Morrell College competitions. I've been studying there since I was 15, and have been competing for those six years too. It's close to home and a well run event with a good course."

And Francois added: "The Equine Performance Coaching degree is perfectly in line with what I want to do in my career. We've been able to study while building our new business. The studies have been moulded around our lifestyle and it's all been tailored to support us."

Footballers visit FA training centre to help coaches earn licence

Young stars from the Leamington FC Football Academy have been helping the country's top coaches take the next step in their development during a visit to England's national football centre.

Players from the academy, which is run in partnership with Moreton Morrell College, were invited to support the UEFA B Licence coaching courses taking place at St George's Park. More than 20 players from the academy travelled to the home of England's football teams and FA education across the two days. Dylan Diggle, 17, was one of the players involved on the day and said it was a great experience. "It was really good. We were coached by top level coaches who are the best at what they do and after seeing them in action it made me realise it might be an avenue I want to explore with my career," said Dylan. "The pitches there were immaculate and everyone loved the experience."

Mark Fogarty, Head of Football Development at Leamington FC, said: "It was a fantastic opportunity for our players and staff to experience some of the ‘Hero’ floristry lecturer nominated for prestigious FE award

Moreton Morrell College floristry lecturer Jane Benefield has been hailed a ‘hero’ after being shortlisted for a major Further Education award.

She is one of the eight individuals or organisations shortlisted for the WorldSkills Hero category in the TES FE Awards 2021.

The awards celebrate those making remarkable contributions to the FE sector and the World Skills Hero award recognises the dedicated professionals who go the extra mile to support the talented competitors who take part in regional, national and international skills competitions.

Jane has led the floristry department at Moreton Morrell College for 10 years and in that time has supported more than 80 students to take part in WorldSkills competitions.

She said: “I am passionate about the WorldSkills competition and proud of the work we have done at the college mentoring students through competitions over the years.

“It’s an honour to have been nominated and to have been recognised by my peers and judges in this way.

“Participation in the competitions brings much more enrichment to the learning experience than just the honour of winning, it builds vital confidence and practical, presentation, employability and entrepreneurial skills.”

Newbold Pacey & Ashorne WI

We've had a busy spring in Newbold Pacey & Ashorne WI as we emerged blinking from our long winter lockdown.

We started with an Easter Saturday cake sale under the gazebo in our secretary's front garden. Out came the bunting, WI banners, WI aprons and one-way signs! And thankfully, the sun. The queue snaked around the Green, everyone masked, 2m apart, clutching containers and 'correct change'. No-one wanted to miss out on homemade WI cakes and hot cross buns and everything went like hot cakes. We repeated this successful endeavour in May, raising much needed funds to support our WI activities programme.

Our April zoom speaker was Life Coach, Liz Doyle who took us through relaxation techniques, encouraged us to let the past go, practice forgiveness and release our inner child. There was much discussion and sharing of life experiences and many of us stayed online to chat for almost an hour after the speaker had left. She certainly got us thinking.

In May we held our Annual Meeting, elected our new President, Helen Oakley and had a fun quiz trying to guess which of our members lived behind which front door. We also collected a car boot full of food items for the LWS Night Shelter Food Appeal in Leamington. We will be collecting again in June.

Our Craft Group has been busy knitting bonding squares, tiny cardigans and hats for the tiny patients in the special care baby units across Warwickshire hospitals.

Our Walking Group has enjoyed a couple of lovely spring rambles: 4-miles from Harbury around Ufton Pools and another around Newbold Comyn. Lovely opportunities to chat with two of the five new members we have signed up – zoom is great but you can't beat face to face. Since April we have recruited members from Ashorne, Ladbroke, Lighthorne Rough, Moreton Morrell and Shipston proving that you don't necessarily have to live in our village to join our WI.

Newbold Pacey & Ashorne WI

This month, we've taken on an allotment in Gooseberry Fields, Ashorne and have been busy clearing it of thistles and covering it in cardboard. Its tough work but we hope it will pay dividends when we follow the 'no-dig' method ready for planting in the autumn.

Our 13 June zoom speaker is Di Vernon (retired midwife now glass worker and blacksmith) who will be talking to us from her Nuneaton smithy sharing the beautiful, creative metal and glass items she makes.

Our 8 July meeting will be our first face to face WI meeting in Ashorne Village Hall for 16 months. Our committee is making plans to ensure we will be Covid compliant in our venue but are very excited at the prospect of seeing everyone! We have booked Cotswold artist, Irene Tyack who will be sharing her creations with Yellow Hat Tribe characters and of course there will be tea and homemade cake for everyone.

In terms of wider WI activities: later in July, some of our members are having a try at paddle boarding on the Leam and in August others are off to Windsor for the day with Johnsons Coaches and other Warwickshire WI members. In October we're looking forward to booking in for lunch and chats with Reverend Richard Coles and in March 2022 for the same with Wildlife Garden Designer and TV presenter, Joel Ashton. There's always something to look forward to with the WI.

We are very much open for new members and guests – contact Trish by phone for a chat or email npandawi@gmail.com if you'd like to find out more.

For a membership fee of less than £1 per week, members can expect 11 meetings per year and Federation and National WI magazines without extra cost. Opportunities to sign up for extra trips, talks and workshops run by Warwickshire Federation, WI Denman online and other WIs will be at your own cost. As a WI member you are part of the largest women's voluntary organisation in the world. There are around 206,000 members in 6,200 WIs across the UK.

Stay well, stay safe everyone.

Switch and Save

Dear all

Thank you for your support in the Winter Switch & Save scheme. With your help we achieved our best results ever helping over 6000 residents to switch their supplier and save money. The winning supplier will deliver electricity from 100% renewable sources meaning that we also managed help the environment as well.

But there is no time to stop. The next scheme starts today and yet again we need your help to spread the word to our residents and help them and the environment.

Please continue your important work to help raise people out of fuel debt and help combat climate change.

See below for the News Bulletin with all the details:

*Save money on your gas and electricity bills:
Warwickshire Switch and Save is back to help you.*

Warwickshire Residents are now encouraged to join the latest Big Community Switch to see how much they could save.

Residents have already saved over £1.5 million on their gas and electricity bills and thousands of tonnes of CO2 due to the electricity being supplied by renewable sources.

Warwickshire County Council has opened its 10th reverse auction in an effort to help its residents save money on their energy bills. Using their collective bargaining power, residents can increase competition amongst energy providers and secure better energy prices. The Council is continuing its partnership with iChoosr to use their expertise in negotiating with energy providers to secure the best prices for residents.

In the last reverse auction period, there was a 30% increase in residents participating in the scheme, making it one of the most successful to date and ensuring that more residents than ever before are getting the best price for their gas and electricity. Residents can register their interest in the scheme before the auction begins.

Those who have registered their interest will then be given a personalised offer showing how much they could be save by switching. If the householder is happy with the deal they can then proceed and switch suppliers totally free of charge.

Over 24200 households in Warwickshire have registered with the scheme and 6,200 have made the switch and saved a combined amount of £1.5 million on their gas and electricity bills as the scheme continues in its popularity.

Rob Powell, the Council's Strategic Director for Resources, said: "Some residents will be paying too much, particularly if they haven't switched supplier for a while, so I'd encourage everyone not to delay and sign up now. "In the last reverse auction, many of those who registered were eligible for a saving on their energy bills.

"For the County Council this is a double win as not only are we helping residents to make considerable savings and also encouraging greener, renewable sources of energy is helping address the climate change emergency."

In recent years, some of the winning suppliers have offered 100% Green energy giving residents peace of mind when considering their environmental footprint. This trend seems set to continue with more and more companies becoming more environmentally aware.

The amount of money that can be saved will vary depending on the customer's current tariff, payment method, consumption and the winning bid. There is no guarantee that an offer will be the cheapest, but the model aims to ensure the majority of participants are offered lower annual energy bills than they are on currently.

Residents who want to take part in this fantastic initiative should visit:

<https://bigcommunityswitch.co.uk/warwickshire/landing> and have their latest energy bill to hand as they will need the details during the registration process. Registration opens on Tuesday 30 March 2021. The auction takes place on 18 May 2021, with individual offers posted or emailed to residents from 31 May 2021. Registration closes 29 June 2021 for online registration and 22 June 2021 for paper registrations.

If residents want support registering or want more information about the scheme, they can call the customer service desk at Act On Energy 0800 988 2881 or, alternatively, call iChoosr on 0800 048 8439, lines will be open Mon - Fri 8.00am - 5.30pm and an advisor will be available to help.

So what are you waiting for? Don't delay, sign up now: <https://bigcommunityswitch.co.uk/warwickshire/landing>

For more information about the scheme visit <https://www.warwickshire.gov.uk/switchandsave>
